Fairmont State Normal School

A Teachers College

FAIRMONT, WEST VIRGINIA

1926 - 1927

FAIRMONT STATE COLLEGE LIBRARY

AN EXPLANATORY FOREWORD

Since some misunderstanding seems to prevail about the present status of Fairmont Normal, an explanation is desirable.

The name of this school remains as it was: "Fairmont State Normal School"; and it will so remain until it is changed by act of the West Virginia legislature. But the school, by official act of the State Board of Education, has been given permission to add two years of college work and to grant the degree of A. B. in Education, and the first degrees were granted in June of 1924. This institution, therefore, while a Normal School in name, is in reality a teachers college. It has Class "A" standing in the American Association of Teachers Colleges and in the Southern Association of Teacher Training Institutions, and graduates have already entered graduate schools without conditions. It is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

It is also approved by the West Virginia Committee of the North Central Association as the equivalent of the teachers' colleges of the North Central Association, and the graduates of the Fairmont State Normal School are approved as teachers in the high schools accredited by that Association.

The change in the status of the institution does not mean that the established normal courses for the training of elementary teachers will be eliminated; it means merely that Fairmont Normal will add to its established courses another course, a course to train supervisors and teachers for junior and senior high schools.

Fairmont Normal is, therefore, still a teacher-training institution, not at all a general, liberal-arts college. But those who do not desire to teach may nevertheless attend the school and secure college credit for the academic work they take. Two or three years of college credit may thus be earned.

INSTRUCTIONS TO PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS

Read this catalog and the student hand-book through carefully, then if there are any questions you wish to ask, write directly to Joseph Rosier, President State Normal School, Fairmont, West Virginia.

The following classes of students are eligible for entrance at Fairmont Normal:

1. High school graduates.

2. High school studnets who have finished 15 units of high school work. (Such students must make up an additional unit of credit by summer school work during the first year).

3. Persons eighteen years of age or over who have not finished a high school course. (But such persons cannot graduate from any course until they have credit for a high school course).

If you are to stay at home while attending the Normal, you need not make any arrangements previous to enrolling. Come to the Normal School building on September 14 or as soon thereafter as possible and directions for enrolling will be given you after you arrive at the building.

If you are not able to remain at home while you are attending Normal School, it is best to make arrangements for room and board before you come to Fairmont. All young women entering the Normal will be expected to engage rooms at the woman's hall, unless they have permission to stay with relatives or friends in the city. In any case you should write Miss Dorcas Prichard, Dean of Women, concerning the place where you are to stay while a student in the Normal.

If you are a graduate of a four-year high school, you become, upon your entrance, a member of the Junior Normal or the Freshman College class. Your high school grades will be accepted at their full value, regardless of what the subjects are. Ask the principal of the high school from which you graduated to send a full and accurate statement of all the work you did, to Miss Ethel Ice, Registrar. If possible, have this done before you enter the Normal School.

If you have done advanced work in some college or normal school of approved standing, the work you have done there will be accepted at its full value on either Normal or College courses. Have all the credits you have at other institutions certified to the Registrar of the Normal. When you send in this statement, request that the committee on classifications and credits pass upon your credits and give you your rating. This committee will tell you how much work you have to complete to finish the course you wish to enter. (But see pages 32 and 33 for residence requirements.)

INFORMATION FOR NEW STUDENTS

The Fairmont Normal Hand-book contains detailed information concerning the regulations and customs of the school. Students should secure and study this hand-book as soon as they enter school.

It is especially desirable that students enroll on the first day of the semester or term. On only that one day an effective system of enrolling students rapidly and accurately is in motion; after that day students have to await the leisure of class adviser, secretary, and registrar. Moreover, students who enroll late sometimes find that certain courses which they desire to take have already been filled to capacity. After the first four weeks of a semester no one is permitted to enroll except by permission of the dean of instruction.

Students are supervised in their study assignments by their class advisers. No change of any kind can be made in the study assignment except by permission of these class advisers, and no change can be made after four weeks of the semester have elapsed except by permission of the dean of instruction.

New students should not ask to carry more than 16 hours' work.

Text books and school supplies may be purchased in the Administration building.

Students are expected to attend the classes regularly and to keep up their work. Teachers report to the dean of instruction any failure to live up to this standard. If, after a reasonable time, the student is still indifferent, he may be asked to discontinue certain courses or to withdraw from the school.

When students are compelled to be absent for a few days, they should, upon their return to school, confer with their instructors about the work they have missed. When they are absent for several days or longer, they should, upon their return, report to the dean of instruction.

When students are at the school building, they are expected to be in class, in the library, in the rooms appointed for discussion and study, or in authorized extra-curricular activities or organizations.

The grading system is as follows: "A" excellent; "B" good; "C" average; "D" fair; "Cond" conditioned; "E" failure. The teacher may, at his discretion, give less credit to any student than the course usually carries; he may, for example, cut down to one, two or three semester hours the credit in a four-hour course.

Any "condition" must be removed by the middle of the term or semester following; otherwise the condition automatically becomes a failure.

Students who fail to pass as much as one-half of the total number of hours assigned to them are not permitted to enroll for the following semester without permission of the dean of instruction. Students who leave school or drop out of any course without permission of the dean of instruction are marked "E" in the courses they are enrolled for.

At each mid-semester the parents or guardians of those students who are not doing satisfactory class work are notified by telephone or letter that at that time the students' work is unsatisfactory. At the end of each semester a report of credits and grades for all students is mailed to parents and guardians.

Upon the students is placed the responsibility of conforming to the graduation requirements. Class advisers will assist their students in this matter, but the students are held directly responsible. Each student should study the curriculum he is pursuing and make sure that he is taking the requisite amount of work including the required work. Only the committee of classification and credits can make changes in the graduation requirements for any student.

All persons who expect to receive diplomas or degrees are required to be present at the commncment sermon and at the graduating exercises.

The committee on placement of graduates assists students in securing positions to teach. The committee, however, accepts no responsibility in the matter and does not promise to secure positions; its function is to assist and collaborate with the students.

General assembly is held once a week, on Thursday morning at ten o'clock. Students who are in the administration building at that hour are expected to attend this assembly.

THE FUNCTION AND PLACE OF THE SCHOOL

Fairmont State Normal School exists to prepare teachers. More specifically, it exists to prepare teachers and supervisors for the elementary and high schools of central and northern West Virginia. It is not in any sense a competitor with the high schools of the state or with liberal arts colleges or professional institutions of the state; it has its own special field of endeavor and is satisfied to cultivate that field.

The Normal School graduates about two hundred teachers every year. It sends out, to twenty-five or more counties in this part of West Virginia, well-prepared and well-trained young men and women to teach in the cities, villages, and rural communities. Each one of these teachers influences twenty or thirty boys and girls every year, so that the work of the Normal School is affecting the educational conditions all over this section of the state.

The normal school is always the pivotal point of a public school system. If the normal school is ineffective, the entire school system suffer, directly and seriously. The preparation and training of teachers is therefore an absolute essential to the success of a system of public education. Fairmont Normal School clearly recognizes this fact, and is endeavoring to discharge the tremendous responsibilities committed to its charge.

The Normal has fitted itself into the public school system of the state and articulates perfectly with all other parts of the system. It gives graduates of four-year high schools entrance without examinations or conditions or stipulation as to what subjects they must have had; it sets up no arbitrary standards, it makes no attempt to influence in this way the curriculum of the public schools. It has a special one-year course for those who wish to teach in villages or the country; it encourages specialization in definite kinds of teaching; it provides special work in physical training, children's games, story-telling, music, drawing, agriculture, English, manual arts of various kinds—in fact, whenever it has been possible, the Normal has endeavored to prepare teachers in all the new subjects and for all the new duties as they have been made apparent. Whenever it is evident that a desirable change in the public school system has taken place or is about to take place, Fairmont Normal does its utmost to adjust its work, its ideals, its traditions, to this change.

One of the ways in which Fairmont Normal is of a special service to the teaching profession is in its helpfulness to teachers already in service. There are always many teachers who cannot afford to attend school for an entire year at one time. Through its special spring and summer terms, and through its correspondence and extension classes, the Normal School comes to the aid of such teachers, making it possible for them to continue their academic and professional studies.

IDEALS AND SPIRIT OF THE SCHOOL

Every educational institution develops, in the course of years, a distinctive and characteristic "school spirit." It is this, rather than the buildings or equipment or the faculty, which most clearly distinguishes one school from another and gives each school almost a personal individuality.

Fairmont Normal's school spirit is well-known; the unusual ideals and traditions of the school are almost immediately perceived by the new student or the visitor. The spirit is attractive and wholesome, and it accounts for the feeling of intense loyalty and devotion which students and graduates show for the school.

Very prominent in Fairmont Normal is the richness and fineness of the social life of the students. For years it has been the tradition that Fairmont Normal students should engage in many diversified social activities, that Fairmont Normalites be acquainted with the best usages and trained in good breeding and the social arts. The authorities of the school believe that this is an important part of the education of any young man or woman, particularly of anyone preparing to teach. Parties, receptions, teas, picnics, formal and informal gatherings of various sorts are therefore recognized and encouraged as an essential feature in the life of Fairmont Normal—all of these being subject to the direction and supervision of the Dean of Women and the Social Committee of the Faculty.

Another noticeable quality of the life at Fairmont Normal is the student freedom that prevails. The Faculty governs by suggestion and advice rather than by rules and strict regulations, thus throwing the responsibility for conduct largely upon the students themselves. Visitors to the Normal School are always impressed by the lack of friction, by the absence of visibility authority, by the fact that the school seems to "run itself." As a result of this liberality and freedom from imposed discipline, there have been few serious cases of misconduct or severe punishment at the Normal for several years. The authorities of the school believe that by thus giving the students more freedom of government and by placing more and more responsibility upon them as they show themselves worthy of it, they will be the better prepared for assuming the duties of teaching and the better prepared to accept responsibility and to display initiative.

A third feature of the school life at Fairmont Normal is the excellent quality of the studentship. Hard, earnest, serious work is expected and exacted of the students. Those who are not willing to work diligently in the class room and in the many student activities and organizations, are not invited to attend Fairmont Normal. The life of the average student at this institution is a very busy one; that is one of the traditions of the school, it is a part of the school spirit.

Finally, as Fairmont Normal is a teachers' school, the "atmosphere" is distinctly professional. "Teaching" is the subject most talked about throughout the school; the ambitions and hopes of every student center in teaching; it is the common goal of all. In consequence, there is a unanimity of purpose and effort, a singleness of aim that inspires all who attend the school and gives them zeal and enthusiasm for teaching.

HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

Provisions for the establishment of the Fairmont Normal School were made by the State Legislature of 1867, and an appropriation was provided for the inauguration of the work of the school. In the Act providing for the school, its purpose was declared to be that of educating and training teachers in the improved methods of instruction and discipline that would be of the best service to the common schools of the State. For more than fifty years the Normal School has striven to carry forward the purpose of its founders. Thousands of young men and women have been enrolled as students, and have felt the influence of the instruction which has been given, and thousands have been graduated and are engaged in the different vocations of the State, exerting wide influence in public affairs. From the beginning, the Normal School gave prominence to the idea of teacher training, with the result that the graduates of the school are very prominent in the educational work of the State. The men and women whose names have appeared in the list of faculties have been widely known for their ability and scholarship, and the instruction which has been given by them has been far reaching in its effects.

In material and equipment, the Normal School has made steady advancement. In 1872 an appropriation was made by the State Legislature for the erection of a new building in conjunction with the local Board of Education. The building was completed and occupied in June, 1873. For many years, the building standing at the corner of Main and Quincy streets, housed both the Normal School and the Public Schools of Fairmont. It has been entirely abandoned for school use. In the year 1893 the Normal School was moved into a new building on Fairmont Avenue, between Second and Third streets. Several years ago the State authorities recognized the need of the institution for a larger site, with more room for buildings. The Board of Control, therefore, was authorized by the State Legislature to purchase new grounds at the far end of Locust Avenue, on the west side of Fairmont. The new site consists of about forty-five acres of ground ideally located for the institution. In January, 1917, the Normal School was moved into the magnificent new building, which is to be its home in the future. Since that time a temporary gymnasium and a permanent girls' dormitory have been constructed.

The curriculum has steadily been enlarged and improved to keep pace with the needs of the times. For many years the curriculum was parallel to that of a high school. About 1912 a year's work was added, making it necessary for graduates of a standard high school to spend one year in the Normal. About 1915 another year's work was added, bringing the school up to standard normal work. In 1920 the high school, or academic department was discontinued. The last step was taken in 1923. At this time the Normal School was granted permission to offer a four-year college course and to grant the A. B. degree in Education. The first college degrees, six in number, were granted in 1924; in 1925 twenty-two degrees were granted; in 1926, forty-two.

LOCATION

The Fairmont State Normal School is located at Fairmont, West Virginia, on the Monongahela River, near the junction of the Tygarts Valley and West Fork Rivers. It is on the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and at the terminus of the Monongahela Railroad. It may be reached on the Monongahela Valley Traction Company interurban lines from Weston, Bridgeport, Clarksburg, Mannington, and Fairview, and by bus from Morgantown. It is the geographical center of one of the most populous sections of the state. Clarksburg, Grafton, Elkins, Mannington, Moundsville, Wheeling, Parkersburg and other important towns and cities are within a short distance; Fairmont is one of the most accessible cities of the State.

Fairmont is a busy, modern, progressive city of about 25,000 population, with a commission form of government, electric lighting, pure water supply—all the advantages and conveniences of a modern urban community. It has many fine churches of different denominations, and it has one of the best public school systems in the country. Its population is composed of an enterprising and wide-awake class of people. Its citizens take an active interest in education and all movements for the advancement of the community and state. Many of America's famous public men and women and most noted speakers have been brought to Fairmont by some of the city's clubs and societies. For these reasons, it is an especially favorable location for an educational institution.

BUILDINGS AND CAMPUS

The main building is a fine example of classic architecture, and is one of the finest public buildings that has been erected by the State. With its architectural beauty it combines a practical arrangement and equipment for school work. It stands in the center of the spacious new campus and commands a beautiful view of the surrounding country. The building is 265 feet long, 65 feet wide, and three stories in height. The outside walls are made of light brick trimmed with limestone and terra cotta. Beautiful steps and approaches have been completed. It contains a fine auditorium, large library, study halls, society rooms, rooms for domestic science and domestic art, biological laboratories, chemical and physical laboratories, science lecture rooms, music rooms, offices, lunch rooms and general recitation rooms. Although very large, the building has already been outgrown by the rapidly enlarging student body. A new wing, containing a spacious library, a modern cafeteria, additional class rooms and offices, was occupied during the past year.

The woman's hall is of the same architecture and material as the main building. It is situated in the rear and at right angles to the main building, with a beautiful view in all directions over the hills. The hall has accommodations for seventy-five persons, besides liberal provision for parlors, dining room and suites for the matron. The woman's hall is in charge of a mature woman of experience and special training, so that the occupants will be as well cared for as they would be in their own home.

A temporary wooden gymnasium has been constructed on the campus and is in constant use by the students of the Normal School, and other schools in this community. It has one of the best basketball floors in the State. The Monongahela Valley Basketball Tournament is held here annually, and is one of the important events of the athletic year. The gymnasium provides splendid opportunities for the training of students in all indoor games and sports. It is the laboratory of the department of physical education.

The campus is rapidly becoming one of the most beautiful and picturesque grounds in the State. Several acres have been laid out in gardens, trees and shrubbery are being planted, walks and roads laid, and other improvements made.

The legislature of 1925 appropriated money to purchase twenty-six additional acres of land adjoining the present campus, to be used as an athletic field. This will be ready for use in 1927.

TRAINING SCHOOLS

Arrangements have been made with the Board of Education of Fairmont Independent District by which the Butcher School, located on Fourth street, is open to the regular Normal School Seniors for observation and practice teaching.

Arrangements have been made also for training facilities in the elementary schools at Jayenne and Barrackville and in the high school at Barrackville and East Side, Fairmont. Students of the Normal School have abundant opportunity to observe excellent teaching and to do practice teaching, under competent critic teachers. All training work is under the direction of the Education department of the Normal School.

LIBRARY

Fairmont Normal has a library of more than nine thousand volumes, in charge of a competent librarian and assistants. The new library room is one of the largest and most beautiful rooms of its kind in the state, and is fully furnished with modern library equipment. The books have been selected with care, with the special view of getting together the best books in the different fields of knowledge and literature and specifically in the field of Education. Virtually all the authoritative books on Education, all the classics in English and American Literature, and all well-known reference books are to be found in the library. Modern fiction, drama, and poetry are well represented.

In the library are to be found more than one hundred of the most useful and popular newspapers and magazines, both educational and general. Students are allowed free access to these periodicals, and each week the librarian posts on the library bulletin lists of stories and articles most worth reading, so that the student may be assisted in finding what he wants to read. The library owns a large number of bound volumes of periodicals of recent years.

EXPENSES

It is the aim of the Normal School authorities to keep the expenses for students as low as is consistent with their being well provided for. Fairmont is not an inexpensive place to live, but the new woman's hall will allow of students being cared for at very reasonable cost.

It is estimated that a year's schooling at Fairmont Normal costs about as follows:

Board and Room	$300.00
Tuition and class expense	25.00
Laundry	30.00
Books and stationery	15.00
Miscellaneous	30.00
Total	$400.00

(Rooms at Morrow Hall range from $1.75 to $2.25 a week. Table board is $5.00 a week.)

This summary is estimated on the needs of the average student. Some students will spend considerably more than this, and some will be able to attend school for slightly less.

No one who desires to attend school at Fairmont Normal should become discouraged because he is not provided with sufficient money to pay all his expenses. There is abundance of work of various kinds for young men and women in and about Fairmont, and any ambitious and energetic student can make his own way while attending school. A faculty committee assists students to secure employment.

A good many young women students secure rooms for light housekeeping and reduce the cost of living materially, especially if they can have some provisions sent them from home.

ORGANIZATIONS AND STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Student organizations and activities carried on by students have a distinct and notable place in the school. Recognizing that they encourage initiative and self-control, provide laboratory training in English, teach parliamentary law, and train in appearing before the public, and realizing that this is of special value for teachers, the authorities manifest keen interest in the conduct and success of the established organizations and the formation of new ones. Every student can find some kind of student work that fits in with his interest and talents.

STUDENT BODY

The entire school is organized into an association known as the Student Body which meets regularly once a month and also at the call of the president. It fills an important place in the general work of the Normal School.

Through this organization, receptions are arranged, officers of the "Columns" and "Pamphlet" elected, special committees appointed, the lecture course directed, and many other services as they arise from time to time rendered. A Student Body fee of $2.50 a year is required, of all students. This covers the cost of receptions, flowers, and additional expenses for the student body. It also entitles the student to a ticket for all numbers in the regular lecture course. The constitution of the Student Body is printed in the Fairmont Normal Hand-book.

SOCIAL CABINET

The president of the Student Body and the presidents of all the school organizations, together with a faculty representative, constitute what is known as the Social Cabinet. This is the advisory board of the Student Body. Through it many wholesome movements are launched and projects initiated.

CLASS ORGANIZATIONS

At the beginning of the school year each academic class forms an organiaztion by electing officers and appointing committees. The classes give parties, engage in athletic contests, and act as units in all the activities of the school. A member of the faculty serves as class adviser to each class.

WRITERS' CLUB

Students who are interested in writing have an opportunity to carry on literary work through the Writers' Club. This organization publishes The Columns, a fortnightly news magazine, and The Pamphlet, a pictorial year-book. The Columns is a member of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association. Work on The Columns may be credited on English 46.

THE MASQUERS

The Masquers is the name of the student organization interested in dramatic work. It has always been a very popular club, efficiently utilizing and developing the dramatic talent of the college and Normal department. The auditorium is well equipped with a modern stage thus providing the club with an excellent "Little Theatre" where all its productions can be presented. It has been the policy of the club to stage a popular comedy early the first semester which can then be taken to outlying cities for additional performances. Following this, a program of one-act plays is given, then a rather difficult drama is presented as the big spring production. This year the play was "Candida," by George Bernard Shaw. To develop the talent of the club, a one-act play is presented at the business meetings each month. The club has also accumulated many acts of scenery, much stage furniture, and properties, useful in staging their productions.

COLLEGIATE DRAMATIC SOCIETY

The Alpha cast of the National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega, founded in 1925, is located at this college. It is the aim of this fraternity to stimulate interest in dramatics and recognize and reward effort put forth in these lines. Any student who writes a play that is produced, displays a certain degree of ability in a number of plays, is rewarded by election to this honor fraternity.

THE ORATORICAL SOCIETY

Those who wish to develop ability as public speakers have abundant opportunity in the activities of the Oratorical Society. This club has varied programs of debating, oratory, and some of a purely literary and social nature. This club is a charter member of the West Virginia State Forensic Association, which is in turn a member of the National Intercollegiate Oratorical Association. The Fairmont Oratorical Society has always had a representative in the state oratorical contest. Debates were held during the past year with West Virginia Wesleyan College, Glenville, West Liberty, and Davis-Elkins College.

CHEMISTRY SOCIETY

A chemistry society, the Lamda Delta Lamda, has just been organized. The purpose of this organization is to promote interest in the study of chemistry and physics. The membership is limited to young men who have had at least sixteen hours of chemistry. Mr. Rogers is honorary president.

HISTORY HONOR SOCIETY

This organization exists to encourage interest and a high quality of work in history and related studies and to afford a means of recognizing work of more than ordinary quality in such subjects. To be eligible to membership students must have gained sixteen hours credit in history with no grade below C and with an average of not less than B in all history courses.

GLEE CLUBS

Fairmont State Normal has two Glee Clubs: one for the young men and one for the young women. These are voluntary organizations. All students having musical ability belong to one or the other of these organizations, and meet once a week throughout the year for practice and rehearsals. At times during the year the two organizations combine to give a joint public program. The instructor of vocal music in the Normal School is director of these clubs. Credit for glee club work may be secured as Music 3.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS

Fairmont Normal has active chapters of both the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association. The latter is especially large and influential. These organizations have monthly program meetings and carry on throughout the year a number of charitable and religious activities. The Young Men's Christian Association publishes the student handbook. Representatives of the Association are sent each year to the national meetings.

WOMEN'S SOCIAL CLUBS

The young women living in Morrow Hall have formed a "house" organization, with officers and committees, to carry on the social affairs of the Hall. The young women students living in Fairmont have an organization known as the "O. I. T." (Out in Town) club, which attempts to secure cooperation and consolidation among these students.

LECTURE COURSE

The aim of the lecture course is to keep the men and women who attend Fairmont Normal in touch with the various activities of the world, that enter vitally into human progress. This is done by bringing outstanding musicians, artists in other lines, travelers, lecturers, explorers, and entertainers to the school. The course is supported by a fee at the time of enrollment and public patronage. Among the outstanding personages for 1926-27 are: Dr. Vichalmur Steffanson, the Kneisle string quartet, and Dr. Frederick Vining Fisher. The Lecture Course is managed by a student and a faculty committee working in cooperation.

HIKERS' CLUB

The young women of the school have organized a Hikers' Club which is active especially in the fall and spring months. The purpose of this club is to take hikes out from Fairmont through the country and nearby towns. Any girl student in school may join this club. Miss Toivenon, director of physical education, is leader.

ATHLETICS

Fairmont Normal engages in the three major branches of organized interscholastic athletics: football, basketball and baseball. It is the policy of the institution to provide equipment and apparatus and to encourage athletic sports within moderation. No effort has been made or will be made to bring the athletic activities to a higher level than that attained by other activities of the school. Coaches and physical direcors are employed, a well balanced schedule is made each season, and the students support the teams loyally and enthusiastically; that is all that can reasonably be expected.

As an illustration of the nature of the athletic activity of Fairmont, the football schedule for 1926 is given:

Sept. 26—California Normal, there.
Oct. 1—Salem College, home.
Oct. 9—Potomac State, home.
Oct. 16.—Davis Elkins College, there.
Oct. 23—Glenville Normal, there.
Oct. 30—Broaddus College, home.
Nov. 6—West Liberty Normal, there.
Nov. 13—Marshall College, there.

Full schedules in both basketball and baseball are arranged for each year.

INFORMATION ABOUT CREDITS, CERTIFICATES, ETC.*

The West Virginia Board of Education has passed certain regulations concerning credits, certificates, etc., some of which regulations are printed below. They apply to Fairmont Normal:

I. No advance credit for work of high school grade:

Under no circumstances will credit of collegiate grade be allowed in normal schools, colleges, or the University for work done in a high school.

II. No college credit for work done in Class C and Class D summer schools:

The work of such summer schools is intended for purely high school purposes, and to meet under limitations the requirements for certificates. The higher institutions cannot accept such credits as college work.

III. Uniform entrance requirements of fifteen (15) approved units:

All state educational institutions will admit students to collegiate courses upon fifteen(15) approved units submitted by first class four-year high schools or other secondary schools of the same rank and standing.

IV. No professional credit for a teacher's certificate until high school course is completed:

Students must complete a first class high school course before taking up special work to meet certificate requirements. High school students going to summer schools should take regular high school subjects until the high school course is completed. Under this plan some strong students may complete the high school units in time to take advantage of the spring and summer term of a teacher-training institution for the 18 weeks required for a first grade temporary certificate.

*Note: These were the regulations in effect at the time this catalog was printed. They may be altered before the school year of 1926-27 begins.

V. Professional work limited:

The maximum amount of professional work to be taken in state teacher-training institutions shall be as follows:

For college courses ..... 30 semester hours
For standard normal course.... 20 semester hours
For short course ..... 10 semester hours

VI. No credit for teaching experience:

Beginning with the school year 1926-27 no school credit will be given for experience in teaching.

VII. Credit on a teacher's certificate:

1. On an elementary certificate earned in the Uniform Examination, one-half unit of high school credit may be allowed on each of the following subjects in which the applicant has received a grade of 85 per cent or more: Reading, English Grammar, Arithmetic, Physiology, United States History, Geography, Agriculture, Civil Government, Theory and Art of Teaching, State History, Bookkeeping, Ancient History.

2. Credit for a subject on a teacher's certificate cannot be allowed if the student has already received credit for identical or similar work.

3. Credit given on Reading and English Grammar on account of a teachers' certificate can be substituted only for first year high school English.

VIII. Credit on Reading Circle Books:

1. A person who has made a grade of 85 per cent on any approved subjects of the Reading Circle Course by state examination may receive credit as follows:

On a high school course, one-fourth unit in each subject.

IX. Extension Classes:

1. In Extension Classes conducted by members of the faculty of the institution, the conditions and standards of work should be as far as possible, the same as required in resident classes.

2. A State Institution may recognize extension classes taught by persons not on the regular faculty under the following general conditions:

(a) The instructor must hold the degree of Master of Arts or have equivalent training in the subjects taught.

(b) He must be approved by the head of the institution's department in which the work is to be credited.

(c) A person regularly engaged in school work may conduct not more than one two-hour course a semester.

(d) The student must be on the same scholastic level as are students doing similar work in the institution.

3. Credit for work in extension classes shall be given on the general basis of 18 recitation hours for one semester hour of credit.

X. Correspondence work:

1. Credit for correspondence courses shall be given on the general basis of 54 hours of study for 1 semester hour of credit, and the final examination shall be given by the person designated by the institution offering the course.

2. The total amount of correspondence work that may be accredited on any course shall be as follows:

(a) The standard college course, 20 hours.
(b) The standard normal course, 12 hours.
(c) Short normal course, 8 hours.

XI. Credit for Extension work limited:

1. The total amount of extension work (including correspondence work) that may be done during one term of teaching shall not be more than 8 hours, not more than 6 of which may be in correspondence work. This limitation is placed also upon residence work done at the Normal School in evening and Saturday classes.

XII. Temporary and equivalent certificates:

1. Beginning with 1926 the requirements for temporary (one year) certificates shall be:

For first grade temporary: High school graduation and 16 semester hours of collegiate work, eight of which must be in professional subjects. (Persons who have completed one full year or more of college work which includes 6 semester hours in education, may on the special recommendation of the county or district superintendent be issued a first grade temporary certificate subject to renewal as provided for below.)

For second grade temporary: High school graduation and 8 semester hours of collegiate work, six of which must be in professional subjects.

XIII. Requirements for Renewal of First and Second Grade Temporary Certificates:

1. Nine weeks in summer school—minimum credit eight semester hours; or (2) Six weeks in summer school and two or more hours credit earned by extension or correspondence since September 1, 1924.

The eight hours of work required to renew a temporary certificate may be elected from any subjects, academic or professional, which are required or may be elected for credit on the Short or Standard Normal Courses. The work that should be done by a student in any year will depend upon the work the applicant had in high school and previous summer terms.

Note—Applicants for renewal of temporary certificates must secure the recommendation of their county superintendents on Application Form 5, and file with registrar of summer school at the beginning of summer term.

XIV. Equivalent Certificates:

1. The short normal equivalent certificate may be issued to any one who obtains credit for the first year of the standard normal course as outlined in the catalogue.

2. Any person who has completed the work required for, or equivalent to that of any course on which is issued a teacher's certificate, but who has not met the residence or other graduation requirements for a diploma may have his work approved by the State Board of Education and the corresponding certificate may be issued without formal graduation. The school work of such person will be approved only when the applicant meets the following conditions:

(a) The applicant must make application on the form approved by the State Department of Education, giving a definite statement of the information requested. (Apply for Teacher-Training Form 14.)

(b) All school work done must be evaluated and approved by the faculty or accrediting committee of a West Virginia School or College authorized to give the course for which such work is being approved.

(c) The applicant must be recommended by the city or district and county superintendent under whom he has had his most recent teaching experience.

(d) After July 1, 1927, normal equivalent certificates will be issued only to teachers of ten or more years experience. The younger teachers must meet the residence requirements of some approved teacher-training institution.

COURSES OF STUDY

Fairmont State Normal School is a teachers' college. A full four-year college course, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education, and a two-year course, leading to a diploma, are offered.

COLLEGE COURSE

PURPOSE: This course is designed to prepare teachers for Junior and Senior High Schools and for administration positions.

ENTRANCE: "The present requirements for graduation as fixed by the West Virginia High School course of study will be recognized for college entrance to West Virginia Normal Schools and Colleges." But "Students will be admitted to the State Normal Schools and Colleges on presentation of 15 units of high school credit, the remaining unit to be made up during the first or second year of Normal School or College work."

LENGTH: The course consists of four full years of work above a four-year high school course. One hundred twenty-eight semester hours are required for graduation.

RESIDENCE: Thirty-two hours must be done in residence at the Normal School, sixteen hours of which must be done during the senior year.

RATE AT WHICH CREDIT MAY BE EARNED:

The regular amount of work for each year of this course is 32 semester hours. In the first two years of the course the student may, by permission of his class adviser, carry 36 semester hours a year. In the last two years of the course the student may by permission of his class adviser carry 34 semester hours a year. Only superior students are given permission to carry more than 32 hours.

ADVANCED CREDIT: "Work done in any state normal school, college, or university of the state, shall be credited, hour for hour, by any other Normal School, College or University of the state, subject to residence, graduation, and special requirements on account of membership in any approved association of colleges or universities." Students and graduates in the Normal Courses, either in this institution or elsewhere, will receive credit hour for hour for work done in these courses. Thus, a graduate of the Standard Normal course, who has earned 64 semester hours, would receive credit for 64 hours on the College course, leaving 64 hours additional work to complete.

CERTIFICATE GRANTED: Graduates of the college courses receive a certificate from the State of West Virginia, which certificate enables them to act as principal or supervisor or to teach in any high school or elementary school in the state and which is accepted by other states as the equivalent of the high school certificate in those states.

RECOGNITION OF COURSE: Fairmont Normal has "Class A" standing in the American Association of Teachers Colleges and in the Southern Association of Teacher-Training Institutions. Graduates of the College course have already been given unconditional entrance to the graduate schools of such institutions as the George Peabody College for Teachers.

STANDARD NORMAL COURSE

PURPOSE: This course is designed to prepare teachers for positions in the elementary schools of the towns and cities of West Virginia. Graduates of this course are recommended for positions in the elementary schools of the state.

ENTRANCE: The same requirements as for those entering the college course. (See page 32.)

LENGTH: This course represents two full years of work above a four-year high school course; 64 semester hours are required for graduation.

RESIDENCE: 32 hours of the 64 hours must be done in Fairmont Normal. At least 24 of the 32 hours must be done in residence; the remaining 8 hours may be done through correspondence or extension work from Fairmont Normal.

RATE AT WHICH CREDIT MAY BE EARNED:

The regular amount of work for each year of this course is 32 semester hours. Exceptional students may be given permission by their class advisers to carry a maximum of 36 semester hours.

ADVANCED CREDIT: Credit in the Normal Course is allowed, hour for hour, for work done in any institution of recognized standing beyond high school rank. (No advanced credit may be allowed for any work done in high school, whether before or after high school graduation).

CERTIFICATE GRANTED: Graduates of this course receive a certificate from the State of West Virginia, good for five years, and renewable almost indefinitely, so that it is practically a certificate for life. This enables the graduates to teach in any school in West Virginia, and it is usually accepted by other states as equivalent to the highest elementary certificates in those states.

SALARY: Graduates of the Standard Normal Course cannot receive, under the law of West Virginia, a salary of less than $100.00 a month. This is the basic salary for the first term of teaching. Most graduates of Fairmont Normal start in with a salary of from $110.00 to $140.00 a month.

THE "SHORT COURSE" CERTIFICATE

Fairmont Normal offered for some years a one-year course, called the "Short Course." This has now been discontinued. But the school continues to grant the so-called "Short Course Equivalent" certificate, to all those who finish the first year of the Standard Course and who find it necessary or desirable to teach for a time before completing the Standard Course. This certificate enables its holder to teach in any elementary school of the state, at a salary of not less than $90.00 a month.

CONTENTS OF THE COLLEGE COURSE

The College course is not organized and outlined by the semester-schedule plan, but by major subjects, minors, groups, and electives. Courses are to be taken, whenever possible, in the order of their numerical designation; certain courses may be taken only in the junior and senior years; certain other courses may not be entered upon until certain pre-requisite courses have been finished.

Two curicula are offered: one for prospective principals and superintendents, designated Curriculum A; and one for high school teachers, designated Curriculum B.

Curriculum A is open only to men and women of maturity and successful experience, or to students of superior ability who give promise of developing into efficient school administrators. Students electing this curriculum must major in education and do not less than 30 hours in this subject, and must have two minors of 16 hours each. No one is permitted to enroll for this curriculum without the permission of the senior class adviser and the committee of classification and grades.

Curriculum B is open to all students desiring to prepare for high school training. Students pursuing this curriculum must major in the subject that they plan to teach in the high school and minor in a related subject or in the second subject that they plan to teach. Education cannot be selected as a major or minor nor to meet any other group requirement.

To graduate from the College in either curriculum a student must see that his work conforms to the following requirements:

1. A total of 128 semester hours.
2. In Education, 24 hours.
3. In English, 6 hours.
4. In Physical Education, 4 hours.

Requirements in English 1 and 2 may be waived if the student can pass satisfactory examinations in these courses.

The minors are to be selected on the advice and with the approval of the class adviser. They should be the subjects the student would prefer to teach if he should be called upon to do so.

At least 20 hours of the 32 hours offered as the minor subjects and at least 45 of the 128 hours required for graduation must be earned in courses scheduled for the junior and senior college years (courses numbered from "20" upward).

Requirements in English 1 and English 2 may be waived if the students can pass satisfactory examinations in these courses.

The major and minor subjects shall be chosen not later than the beginning of the sophomore year. The student should select as his major the subject that he desires to teach. The minor should be chosen from a related field, or should be the second subject that the student would elect to teach, if he should be called upon to teach two subjects.

At least 12 hours of the 24 hours offered as the major and at least 45 of the 128 hours required for graduation must be earned in courses scheduled for the junior and senior years (courses numbered from "20" upward.)

In 1926-27 the majors and minors may be chosen from the following departments or groups:

1. Education (In Curriculum "A" only).
2. Biology.
3. Chemistry.
4. English.
5. Fine Arts (drawing and music).
6. Geography.
7. History.
8. Home Economics.
9. Mathematics.
10. Sociology.

Minors may be chosen from any of the major subjects except education and also from:

1. French.
2. Latin.
3. Physical Education (12 hours in addition to the required courses).

The groups which may be offered are the majors and minors (except Education) and also:

1. Economics.
2. General Science.
3. Physics.
4. Political Science.
5. Psychology.

The plan of the college curricula may readily be understood by the outlines on pages 38 and 39. Each student working for a degree should obtain a copy of the outlines of his curriculum from his class adviser and, with his aid, work, from semester to semester, to secure a well-rounded and symmetrical course.

The teaching combinations approved by the State Supervisor of High Schools and by the Secondary School Principals Associations are as follows: Whether enrolled for Curriculum "A" or "B," students should prepare for teaching two subjects in any of these combinations.

1. English and one of the following: 1. Social Studies; 2. Fine Arts; 3. French; 4. Latin.
2. Social Studies and one of the following: 1. English; 2. Fine Arts.
3. Science.
4. Mathematics: 1. Science.
5. Home Economics and one of the following: 1. Science; 2. Fine Arts.
6. Agriculture: 1. Science.
7. Commerce.
8. Physical Education.
9. Practical Arts for boys.

CONTENTS OF THE STANDARD NORMAL COURSE

Students entering the Standard Normal course have a choice of one of three differentiated curricula: primary, intermediate, and junior high. The differentiation does not begin, however, until the second semester of the junior year, in order that students may have an opportunity, during the first semester, of deciding what work they wish to take. Certain subjects (called "constants," and marked with a star) are found in all the Standard Normal courses. The electives are chosen from the list of subjects outlined in this catalog, but must be approved by the class adviser.

The requirements in English 1 and 2 and Mathematics 1 will be waived upon satisfactory entrance examination. These examinations will be held a day or two after the opening of each term.

Students and graduates of the Standard Normal course are given credit, hour for hour, on the College course. But inasmuch as the Normal and the College courses are somewhat widely differentiated, this does not mean that graduates of the Normal course with 64 hours of credit can necessarily complete the College course by doing 64 additional hours of work, making a total of 128 hours. The graduation requirements of the college course, as stated in pages 32 and 35, must be met. Moreover, the following regulations must be observed:

1. Not more than 30 hours in Education may be credited in the College course.

2. Work taken in the second year of the Normal course may be counted on the major and minor subjects. Work taken in the first year may be counted on the group and free hours.

DESCRIPTIVE OUTLINE OF COURSES

Unless otherwise stated, the credit value of the course is identical with the number of hours per week that the class meets.

Courses from one to nineteen are considered to be Junior and Senior Normal level or Freshman and Sophomore College level. Courses from twenty on are considered to be Junior and Senior College level.

The following outline does not attempt to list the spring and summer school courses, except in those instances where "Sp" or "S" is placed after the numerical designation of the course. The spring and summer school courses are all, with infrequent exceptions, chosen from the regular courses.

"A" indicates a course offered in the first semester. The abbreviations "M", "T", "W", "Th", "F", indicate the days on which the class meets. The figures "8:15", "9:10", etc., indicate the hours at which the class begins. The schedule, therefore, is definitely made for 1926-27, and will not be changed except for very strong reasons.

Groups of eight hours each will be offered in 1926-27 in Economics and in Political Science, and additional courses in History will be offered. The courses in these subjects are not outlined herein.

EDUCATION

Mr. Shreve, Miss Gibson, Miss Hull, Mr. Hyde, Miss Leonard, Mrs. Richmond, Mr. White.

Education 2A—Elementary Educational Psychology.

Four hours, first semester. First section, 9:-0, T, W, Th, and F; second section, 10:05, M, T, W, and F; third section, 11:00, M, T, Th, and F; fourth section, 2:00, M, T, W, and Th. Required in all the normal curricula. In this course a study is made of the fundamental principles underlying learning and teaching. Some attention is given to the native equipment of the pupil, individual differences, intelligence, and to grading and the distribution of marks.—Mr. Shreve and Mr. Hyde.

Education 2B—Elementary Educational Psychology.

Four hours, second semester. First section, 9:10, T, W, Th, and F; second section, 10:05, M, T, W, and F; third section, 11:00, M, T, Th, and F; fourth section

1:00, M, T, W, and F. A repetition of Education 2A. —Mr. Shreve and Mr. Hyde.

Education 3A—The Principles of Learning and Teaching.

Five hours, first semester, 8:15, M, T, W, Th, and F. There are three sections of this course: two for primary teachers and one for intermediate teachers. The course is organized around the chief types of classroom activities: drill, assimilative thinking, problem-solving, and appreciation. Each type is considered from two points of view: (1) the factors of study; and (2) how to direct the pupils' learning activities. The general principles thus derived are applied to several of the elementary subjects. Prerequisite, Education 2.—Miss Gibson, Miss Leonard, and Mrs. Richmond.

Education 3B—The Principles of Teaching and Learning.

Five hours, second semester, 8:15, M, T, W, Th, and F. Three sections. A repetition of 3B.—Miss Gibson, Miss Leonard, and Mrs. Richmond.

Education 6A—School Management.

Four hours, first semester. First section, 9:10, M, T, W, and F; second section, 10:05, M, T, W, and F. Required in all the normal curricula. This course deals primarily with the problems of classroom management, but some attention is given to the more general problems of administration and supervision. The main topics considered are: the meaning and aim of education, membership and attendance, school organization, discipline, grading, classifying, promoting, daily programs, school hygiene. Open to normal seniors and college sophomores. Prerequisite, Education 2.—Mr. White.

Education 6B—School Management.

Four hours, second semester. First section, 9:10, M, T, W, and F; second section, 10:05, M, T, W, and F; third section, 2:50, M, T, W, and Th. A repetiiton of 6A.—Mr. White and Mr. Hyde.

Education 7A—Principles and Methods of the Junior High School.

Five hours, first semester, 8:15, M, T, W, Th, and F. Required in the junior high school curriculum. This course deals with the junior high school. Both the principles and methods are considered. The main topics are: the aims of the junior high school, the organization, the program of studies, and methods of teaching high school subjects. Each student makes a special study of the subjects that he is planning to teach in the junior high school. Prerequisite, Education 2.—Miss Hull.

Education 7B—Principles and Methods of the Junior High School.

Five hours, second semester, 8:15, M, T, W, Th, and F. A repetition of 7A.—Miss Hull.

Education 8A—Educational Measurements in the Elementary School.

Two hours, first semester. First section, 1:00, T, and Th; second section, 1:55, T, and Th. Required in all the normal curricula. The aims of this course are: (1) to develop a scientific attitude towards the problems of measuring the results of teaching; (2) to develop the ability to administer the standard tests; and (3) to develop the ability to interpret the results of tests and to express these results in concise form. Some attention will be given to the application of remedial measures to overcome the defects revealed by tests. Prerequisites, Education 2, and senior normal standing.—Mr. White.

Education 8B—Educational Measurements in the Elementary School.

Two hours, second semester. First section, 1:00, T, and Th; second section, 1:55, T, and Th. A repetition of 8A.—Mr. White.

Education 9A—Observation and Teaching.

Five hours, first semester. Hours to be arranged. (A double period is required). Open to seniors only. Required in all the normal curricula. This course consists of observation and practice teaching under the supervision of a training teacher. A minimum of 90 clock hours of observation and teaching is required of each student. At least 60 hours of actual teaching must be done. Prerequisites; Education 2, 3, and 6. —Miss Gibson, Miss Hull, Miss Leonard, and Mrs. Richmond.

Education 9B—Observation and Teaching.

Five hours, second semester. Hours to be arranged. This course is the same as 9A. One half the seniors will enroll for 9A the first semester and the other half for 9B the second semester.

Education 20—Methods of Teaching in Secondary Schools.

Four hours, first semester, 8:15, T, W, Th, and F. Required in the college curricula in the junior or senior year. The aim of this course is to prepare the student for effective teaching in the secondary school. The point of view is that of directing the learning activities of the pupils. A minimum of one hour a week of observation is required in this course. Prerequisite, Education 2.—Mr Hyde.

Education 21—Advanced Educational Psychology.

Four hours, second semester, 8:15, T, W, Th, and F. Required of all college students in the junior or senior year. This course is organized around a number of problems. Each student investigates the problems assigned and reports his findings to the class for discussion and evaluation. Prerequisite, Education 2.—Mr. Shreve.

Education 22—Principles of Secondary Education.

Four hours, first semester, 1:00, M, T, W, and Th. Required of all college students in the junior or senior year. The following topics are considered: the objectives of secondary education, supervised study and individualized instruction, use of intelligence tests and educational measurements, health work, the content of secondary school subjects, and the organization and administration of the high school.—Mr. Shreve.

Education 23—School Administration and Supervision.

Four hours, second semester, 11:00, M, T, Th, and F. This course is designed to meet the needs of those preparing for administrative and supervisory positions. The first half of the course deals with the problems of school administration and the second half with the supervision of instruction. Prerequisite, Education 6.—Mr. White.

Education 24—Observation and Directed Teaching.

Five hours, first or second semester for nine weeks. two hours' credit. Hours to be arranged. Required of all college seniors. The student will observe and teach in the high school under the direction of the department of education or the major professor.—Mr. Shreve, Mr. Hyde, Miss Hull, and Major Professor.

Education 26—Tests and Measurements in the Secondary School.

Four hours, first semester, 11:00, M, W, Th, and F. Open to college students in the junior or senior year. The main topics are: the measurements of mental ability, tests for use in secondary schools, and statistical methods applied to education.—Mr. White.

AGRICULTURE

Mr. Roberts

Agriculture 1—General Agriculture.

Five hours, first semester. Four hours credit, 8:15, T, Th, F, and 1:00-2:50, T. Types of fruits and vegetables and their storage, insect pests and diseases. Principles of stock judging, types and breeds of livestock. Feeds and the computing of rations. Poultry breeds and feeding. Culling hens for egg production. Some Saturday half-day trips required. There is a small fee for materials.

BIOLOGY

Mr. Roberts

A breakage fee of 50 cents for each course in Biology is charged, to be paid at the beginning of the semester.

Biology 3—Plant Biology.

Six hours, first semester. Four hours credit, 9:10, M, Th, and 1:00-2:50, M, W. A general introduction to the important structures of plants and a study of their functions. The elementary physiological activities of plant life.

Biology 4—General Zoology.

Six hours, second semester. Four hours credit, 9:10, M, Th, and 1:00-2:50, M, W. Lectures, recitations and laboratory work giving an introduction to the general principles of Zoology.

Biology 7Sp—Spring Botany.

Five hours, spring term. One hour credit, 2:50-4:40, M, W, and one other period to be arranged. A course in the identification of spring flowers. Practice in the use of a flower manual. Field trips required.

Biology 9S—Summer Botany.

Eight hours, summer term. Three hours credit. Hours to be arranged. The study of summer plants and trees, flower structure and family characteristics and relationships. A course for biology teachers who want something more than the ordinary type of "flower study." Field trips and at least two all-day Saturday trips.

Biology 16—Conservation of West Virginia Wild Life.

Two hours, first semester, 9:10, T, F. Conservation in respect to our wild flowers, forests, fish and game. The agencies for conservation and their purpose. A study of the forms deserving consideration. The sources of information and materials for conservation work in the schools.

Biology 18—Economic Zoology.

Four hours, second semester. Three hours credit, 9:10, T, F, and 2:50-4:40 T. The identification and study of those forms of animal life, both low and high which effect the life of man and his environment. Structure, food habits, breeding habits and control are to be stressed. Field trips are required. Individual collection of material and much independent work is expected.

Biology 23—General Botany.

Six hours, second semester. Four hours credit, 10:05, T, Th, and 1:00-2:50, Tu and Th. The morphology, reproduction and rise in complexity of plants, illustrated with selected types from the one-celled forms to the common seed plants. Prerequisite Biol. 3.

Biology 24—General Entomology—(Omitted in 1926-27)

Six hours, second semester. Four hours credit. The fundamental aspects of entomology, lectures, laboratory and field work dealing with the classification of insects, their morphology and reproduction. Field recognition of common species and methods of collecting. Collection required. Prerequisite Biol. 4. Alternates with Biology 23.

Biology 27—Cryptogamic Botany—(Omitted in 1926-27)

Six hours, first semester. Four hours credit. The study of the common species of algue, fungi, bry-ophytis and ferns. Training in the technique of identification and classification. Prerequisite Biol. 23.

Biology 28—Vertebrate Zoology—(Omitted in 1926-27)

Six hours, second semester. Four hours credit. Studies of the classes of vertebrate animals and their organs and organ systems. Lectures, recitations and laboratory work. Prerequisite Biol. 4.

CHEMISTRY

Mr. Rogers Mr. Haught

The schedule of courses in Chemistry, including laboratory hours, is given on pages 52 and 53. Additional laboratory periods may be made by the instructors.

A laboratory fee of $2.50 for each course in chemistry is charged, to be paid at the beginning of the semester.

Chemistry 1—General Chemistry.

Five hours, first semester. Four hours credit. There are two sections of Chemistry 1: section 1 designed for students who present a year of high school chemistry for entrance and section 2 designed for those who have had no previous work in chemistry. Students who enter these sections should note the accompanying ruled table and find therein a laboratory period for his particular section which does not conflict with hours of other subjects desired.

This course, though treated somewhat differently in the two sections, includes in both the essential subject matter of the usual standard course of freshman college chemistry. This course does not aim to start students toward the goal of becoming chemists, but to give a general idea of this highly specialized field of thought.—Mr. Rogers and Mr. Haught.

Chemistry 2—General Chemistry.

Five hours, second semester. Four hours credit. A continuation of Chemistry 2. The laboratory work in the second half of this course is largely devoted to a study of qualitative analysis. Prerequisite: Chemistry 1.—Mr. Rogers and Mr. Haught.

Chemistry 20—Elementary Qualitative Chemical Analysis.

Six hours, second semester. Three hours credit. This course trains the student to determine the composition of substances by a carefully arranged sequence of experiments. It is an essential preparation for more advanced courses in chemistry. It furnishes a review of the earlier work. Prerequisites: Chemistry 1 and 2.—Mr. Rogers and Mr. Haught.

Chemistry 21—Elementary Quantitative Analysis.

Seven hours, first semester. Four hours credit. Both gravimetric and volumetric methods are included in the work of this course. Prerequisites: Chemistry 1 and 2, Mathematics 3, 4 and 5. This course consists principally of laboratory work, for which three double periods are required.—Mr. Rogers and Mr. Haught.

Chemistry 23—Organic Chemistry.

Five hours, first semester. Four hours credit, The course will consist of two lectures, supplemented by demonstrations, one quiz, and three hours of laboratory work a week. This is the first half of the fundamental course in organic chemistry. It is devoted to the organization and methods of preparation of the aliphatic hydrocarbons and their derivatives. This course is recommended to students of dietetics, agriculture and biology, and should be taken by all chemistry majors. Prerequisites: Chemistry 1 and 2. If possible the student should also precede this course with Chemistry 20 and Physics 1 and 2.—Mr. Haught.

Chemistry 24—Organic Chemistry.

Five hours, second semester. Four hours credit. A continuation of Chemistry 23. Prerequisite: Chemistry 23. This course is devoted largely to a study of the coal tar compounds. Whenever possible, practical applications are made to the arts and industries and useful illustrations are drawn from the students' own experience and knowledge.—Mr. Haught.

Chemistry 25A—Teaching of Chemistry.

Four hours, first semester. Two hours credit. Open to a limited number of students. Prerequisites: Chemistry 1, 2, 20 and 21. This course will include practice in construction of demonstration apparatus problems peculiar to laboratory instruction; a study of the educational values of chemistry, and the most approved methods and devices for presenting the science to beginners. The reading of chemical journals and other reference work in the library is included.—Mr. Rogers.

Chemitry 25B—Teaching of Chemistry.

Four hours, second semester. A repetition of Chemistry 25A.—Mr. Rogers.

Chemistry 26—Introduction to Physical Chemistry.

Three hours, first semester; M, T, Th, at 11:00. This course includes a study of the properties of solutions, ionization, chemical equilibria, kinetic theory of gases, and selected topics in photo-chemistry, thermo-chemistry and electro-chemistry. Prerequisites: Chemistry 1 and 2, Mathematics 1 to 5.—Mr. Rogers.

Chemistry 27—Introduction to Physiological Chemistry.

Three hours, second semester, M, T, Th, at 11:00. Lectures and reference readings. No laboratory work accompanies this course, though experimental projects may be assigned occasionally. The subjects treated include the chemical study of some fundamental physiological processes: the chemistry of nutrients, the products of metabolism, the physiological effect of several classes of drugs and toxic substances. Prerequisites: Chemistry 1 and 2, Physical Education 1.—Mr. Rogers.

Chemistry 28—Organic Preparations—(Omitted in 1926-27).

Two hours credit. Six laboratory hours per week with occasional class conferences during the laboratory period. The laboratory work consists of the preparation of a number of chemical substances in pure condition, attention being centered on the methods of manipulation for overcoming the usual difficulties. Prerequisites: Chemistry 1, 2, 20, 23, 24.—Mr. Haught.

ENGLISH

Mr. Barnes Mrs. Morrow Miss Lewis Mr. Opp
One Additional Instructor

Courses required for English majors are marked with an asterisk.

English 1 and 2 are required of all students. But since these courses are elementary, they will be waived if students pass satisfactory examinations upon entrance. But even if students take these courses or pass the examination, they may be remanded to either or both courses if at any time their oral or written language falls below the standard.

English 1A—Oral English Elements.

Four hours, first semester, for half the semester. Two hours credit. First section. 10:15, M, T, W, F, first half semester; second section 11:00, M, T, Th, F, last half semester; third section, 1:00, M, T, Th, F, first half semester; fourth section, 1:00, M. T. Th, F, last half semester. Required in all courses. This course includes all the elementary phases of oral language training needed by teachers; enunciation, voice training, public speaking, reading aloud, etc.—Mr. Opp.

English 1B—Oral English Elements.

Four hours, second semester, for half the semester. Two hours' credit. First section, 11:00, M, T, W, Th, first half semester; second section, 11:00, M, T, Th, F, last half semester. A repetition of English 1A. —Mr. Opp.

English 2A—Written English Elements.

Four hours, first semester, for half the semester. Two hours' credit. First section, 10:05, M, T, W, F, first half semester; second section, 11:00, M, T, Th, F, first half semester; third section, 1:00, M, T, Th, F, first half semester; fourth section, 10:05, M, T, W, F, last half semester; fifth section, 1:00, M, T, Th, F, last half semester; sixth section, 1:55, M, T, W, Th, last half semester. Required in all the courses. A study of punctuation, capitalization, spelling, and outlining, as well as form, neatness, etc.; themes twice a week.—Miss Lewis, and additional instructor.

English 2B—Written English Elements.

Four hours, second semester, for half the semester. Two hours' credit. First section, 11:00, M, T, Th, F, first half semester; second section, 11:00, M, T, Th, F, last half semester; third section, 10:05, M, T, W, F, first half semester. A repetition of English 2A.—Miss Lewis, and additional instructor.

English 3A—Story Telling.

Two hours, first semester. 2:50, M, W. Required in the primary curriculum of the standard Normal course. Study of the nature and structure of children's stories, selection of stories, and much training in the telling of stories.—Additional instructor.

English 3B—Story Telling.

Two hours, second semester. 2:50, M, W. A repetition of English 3A.—Additional instructor.

English 4A—Children's Literature.

Two hours, first semester. 11:00, M, Th. Required in the primary and intermediate curricula of the standard Normal course. A survey of the entire field of prose and poetry available and suitable for children in the elementary school.—Additional instructor.

English 4-B—Children's Literature.

Two hours, second semester. 11:00, M, Th. A repetition of English 4A.—Additional instructor.

English 5A—Grammar.

Two hours, first semester. 9:10, T, Th. Designed for those who expect to teach English in the upper grades or junior high school. This course is designed to give teachers knowledge of the fundamentals of grammar.—Miss Lewis.

English 5B—Grammar.

Two hours, second semester. 9:10, T, Th. A repetition of English 5A.—Miss Lewis.

English 6—Juvenile Literature.

Two hours, first semester. 11:00, T, F. Designed for those who expect to teach literature in the upper grades or junior high school. A survey of the best literature available for children in the upper grades, with special emphasis on literature for silent home reading.—Additional instructor.

English 8A—Composition.

Three hours, first semester. 9:10, M, W, F. Designed to train Freshman and Sophomore students in the art of expressing their experiences, observations and reflections, in a clear and pleasing manner. Opportunity will be given for selecting the form and style best suited to the students' ability and preference. Prerequisite, English 2.—Miss Lewis.

English 8B—Composition.

Three hours, second semester. 9:10, M, W, F. A repetition of English 8A.—Miss Lewis.

English 9A—Studies in American Literature.

Three hours, first semester. 9:10, M, Th, F. A general introduction to the different periods and the various types of American literature. Designed for college students wishing an elementary survey course, and for normal students wishing to become more familiar with authors whose writings they will teach in the elementary schools.—Mrs. Morrow.

English 9B—Studies in American Literature.

Three hours, second semester. 9:10, M, W, F. A repetition of English 9A.—Mrs. Morrow.

English 10—Recent Fiction.

Three hours, second semester. 8:15, T, Th, F. Required of English majors. Steady reading of the best of British and American fiction of our times, with collateral study of the larger literary movements in fiction.—Mr. Mercer.

English 11—Recent Poetry.

Two hours, first semester. 11:00, M, W. Required of English majors. Reading of much contemporary poetry, American and British, with discussions and lectures on the new poetry movement.—Mr. Barnes.

English 12—The Modern American Magazine.

Two hours, first semester. 1:55, M, W. Reading of the best of the popular and literary magazines of today, with the effort to appraise and classify them. —Miss Lewis.

English 13—Recent Drama.

Two hours, second semester. 1:00, T, Th. Study of many recent plays, British, Continental and American.—Additional instructor.

English 24S—American Literature From 1870 to 1900.

Four hours, summer, two hours' credit. A survey of the last thirty years before nineteen hundred in American literature. Much reading in all the principal authors.—Mrs. Morrow.

English 25—Nineteenth Century Literature.

Four hours, first semester. 11:30, M, T, Th, F. Required of English majors. A survey study of the essays and of the fiction and poetry of the nineteenth century.—Mrs. Morrow.

English 26S—Introduction to Tennyson.

Four hours, summer, two hours' credit. Wide reading of much of Tennyson's verse, close reading of typical masterpieces.—Mr. Barnes.

English 27S—Introduction to Browning.

Four hours, summer, two hours credit. This course is designed to acquaint the student with many of Browning's best verse and to give him training in interpreting Browning.—Mr. Barnes.

English 28—Wordsworth as Poet and Educator—(Omitted in 1926-27).

Two hours, first semester. 9:10, T, Th. Wide reading Wordsworth, with special emphasis upon those poems which contain educational ideas.—Mr. Barnes.

English 29—The Classical Age in English Literature.

Two hours, second semester. 10:05, M, W. Steady reading, for appreciation and comparative study, of the works of the chief writers of the eighteenth century, from Dryden to Goldsmith.—Miss Lewis.

English 30—Milton's Poetry.

Two hours, first semester. 9:10, T, Th. Careful study, from a literary and linguistic standpoint, of "Comus", and "Paradise Lost", and the minor poems. —Mr. Barnes.

English 31—Shakespeare.

Three hours, second semester. 10:05, M, W, F. Required of English majors. Reading of ten of the principal plays, with emphasis upon the literary and dramatic elements.—Mrs. Morrow.

English 32—Middle English.

Three hours, second semester. 9:10, M, W, F. Required of English majors. Study of the chief writers of the middle English period, with chief emphasis on Chaucer, Langland, and Gower. This is primarily a course in the English language.—Mr. Barnes.

English 33—The Bible.

Three hours, first semester. 10:05, M, W, F. The aim of this course is to indicate the main literary types found in the Bible and to familiarize the student with the wealth and variety of its literature. A general knowledge of the Bible as a whole—its theme, structure, and books—will be given, but emphasis will be placed upon the literary elements in the Old Testament.—Mrs. Morrow.

English 34—The New Testament.

Three hours, second semester. 11:00, M, T, F. An intensive study of the literary types and elements in the New Testament.—Mrs. Morrow.

English 35—Nature in Poetry.

Two hours, second semester. 9:10, W, F. A careful study of nature as interpreted by Wordsworth, Byron, Shelley, Bryant, and Lowell.—Mrs. Morrow.

English 36—The Short Story.

Two hours, second semester. 1:00, T, Th. Much reading of specimens of the classic short-story, considered as a type of prose narrative.—Miss Lewis.

English 39—Survey of British and American Literature.

Four hours, first semester. 1:00, M, T, W, Th. Required of English majors. In this course, which should be taken in the senior college year, the student is given a chronological survey of the entire field of British and American literature, from the earliest times down to the present. Prerequisites: English 10, 11, 25, 32.—Mrs. Morrow.

English 40—Narrative and Descriptive Writing.

Two hours, second semester. 10:00, T, Th, F. An advanced course, designed to give especially talented students an opportunity to receive training in these types of writing.—Miss Lewis.

English 41—Expository Writing.

Two hours, first semester. 11:00, T, Th. Required of all college students in junior or senior year. Designed to train in the making of expositions and the writing of papers upon themes of some difficulty.—Mr. Barnes.

English 42—Public Speaking.

Two hours, second semester. 1:00, M, W. Required of English majors. This course, to be taken in either the junior or senior college year, is designed to give students training in the art of preparing and delivering public speeches.—Mr. Opp.

English 45—Dramatization and Play Production.

Two hours, first semester. 9:10, T, Th. The coaching and presenting of plays. This course is designed to acquaint students with the art of dramatic expression and pageantry, to equip them to select plays and adapt material, and to carry on dramatic activities in schools where they teach.—Mr. Opp.

English 46—Extra-Curricular English Activities.

Two hours, either semester. Hours to be arranged. An informal and flexible course. Any student or group of students engaged in activities which develop speech and literary ability, may, upon request, receive instruction in, supervision of, and credit for this work. The amount of credit is to be determined by the supervisor, but shall not exceed two hours in any one semester nor more than six hours in all. Organization is as follows:

46 (A). Oratory and Debate—Practical oratory and debate. Speech training. Should be taken by those interested in public speaking and those students desiring to participate in intercollegiate debate and oratorical contests.

46 (B). Journalism—Work is designed to enable students to acquire journalistic style and skill in newspaper-writing and reporting. Should be taken by those desiring to work on the staff of the school paper.

46 (C). Dramatics—Dramatic expression, theory and practice. Participation in the productions of the dramatic club. Should be taken by members of the dramatic club desiring instruction and training for credit.

46 (D). Story Telling—The aim of this work is to acquaint students with the art of story telling in the school, community-club, or in play-ground work. A story telling club will facilitate this work.—Mr. Opp.

English 47—Teaching English in the High School.

Two hours, first semester. 9:10, M, W. Required of English majors and of those preparing to teach English in the junior high school. Study of the modern method of teaching both literature and English language in the junior and senior high school. Prerequisite or parallel: English 39.—Mr. Barnes.

Students majoring in Fine Arts may distribute the 24 hours between Music and Art in any ratio they desire, but it is recommended that the ratio be about 16 to 8 between the two subjects. Courses starred in Art must be taken by those offering most of their major in Art; courses starred in Music must be taken by those offering most of their major in music.

Students selecting Music must satisfy the instructor as to their ability to sing and to play the piano acceptably.

ART

Art 3—Primary Construction.

Two hours, first semester. One hour credit. 1:55, M, W. All kinds of handwork suitable for the first four grades are planned in this course. Exercises in weaving, folding and cutting.

Art 4—Advanced Construction.

Two hours, first semester. One hour credit. 1:55, T, Th. Construction problems suitable for the Junior and Senior High Schools are planned, such as portfolios, books, boxes, lanterns, candle shades, etc. Emphasis placed on the design.

Art 5A—Elementary School Art Methods.

Four hours, first semester. Two hours' credit. First section, 10:10, M, T, Th, F; second section, 1:00, M, T, W, Th. Required of Standard Normal students enrolled in the primary and intermediate curriculum. It is the aim in this course to study the different systems of public school art and to make an illustrated note book outlining the work for the first five grades.

Art 5B—Elementary School Art Methods.

Four hours, second semester. Two hours' credit. 11:00, M, T, Th, F. A repetition of Art 5A.

Art 20—Art Appreciation.

Three hours, first semester. Two hours' credit. 9:15, M, W, F. This course includes a series of talks on architecture, painting, sculpture, and the minor arts, with the aim of awakening understanding and enjoyment.

Art 21—Perspective.

Two hours, first semester. 9:15, T, Th. This course includes the study of the common forms about us and the principles governing the expression of these objects as found in cylindrical and rectangular perspective. Mediums used: pencil charcoal, water color.

Art 22—Design.

Four hours, second semester. Two hours' credit. 11:00, M, T, Th, F. This course includes the study of the principles of design. Original designs applied in leather-stenciling, block printing, etc.

Art 23—High School Art Methods.

Four hours, second semester. Two hours' credit. 9:15, M, T, W, F. An illustrated note book will be made outlining work for the Junior and Senior High schools. Class room discussion of lesson plans. Observation and practice teaching. Prerequisite, Art 5.

MUSIC

Music 2A—Elementary School Methods and Materials.

Four hours, first semester. Two hours' credit. First section, 11:00, M, F, Th, F; second section, 2:50, M, T, W, Th. Required in the primary and intermediate curricula of the Standard Normal course and required of Fine Arts majors. The teaching of music in Grades 1 to 6. The purpose of this course is to fit students to teach music in the kindergarten and first six years in the public schools. The salient features of this course are: a treatment of the child voice, a study of the tonal and rhythmic problems of each grade, ear training, melody writing, sight reading, and part singing a study of the song material adapted to each grade, the use of the phonograph to develop musical programs, and some work in appreciation.

Music 2B—Elementary School Methods and Materials.

Four hours, second semester. Two hours' credit. First section. 11:00, M, T, Th, F; second section, 2:50, M, T, W, Th. A repetition of Music 2A.

Music 3—Glee Club.

Two hours, first semester. One hour credit. 3:45, M, W. This course consists of voice and chorus training, sight-singing in parts, position, breathing, enunciation, attack, tone production, formation of habits essential to a good chorister. Cantatas and choruses suitable for high and normal schools, choirs and choral societies are studied and sung at public concerts.

Music 4—Glee Club.

Two hours, second semester. One hour credit. 3:45, M, W. A continuation of Music 3.

Music 5—Orchestra.

Two hours, first semester. One hour credit. 3:45, T, Th. The school maintains an orchestra which furnishes music for various entertainments. Students who play any orchestral instruments are urged to make it known to the director of music.

Music 6—Orchestra.

Two hours, second semester. One hour credit. 3:45, T, Th. A continuation of Music 5A.

Music 10—Ear Training, Sight Reading, and Dictation.

Four hours, second semester. Two hours' credit. 1:00, M, T, Th, F. Completion of the course requires facility in reading at sight, either with the Latin syllables or with the text, the music in the standard texts as used in the elementary schools. The study of tone and rhythm, gaining power to recognize, visualize, sing and write melodic phrases, in all keys, completing the ear training outlined for the sixth year in the public schools.

Music 20—Music Appreciation and History of Music.

Four hours, first semester. 1:55, M, T, W, Th. This course has for its aim pleasure in listening to interesting music, and is valuable to the rural teacher as well as to teachers in graded schools. No musical requirements are necessary for entrance. The most modern methods of presenting music appreciation with the aid of the talking machine will be discussed and demonstrated. The music material used will be presented in sequence, showing its development as to form and types of composition. This will establish an appreciation of its consistency as an art, show its possibilities as subject matter of educational value and develop a background upon which to base methods of procedure in teaching appreciation. Two periods each week are devoted to the sudy of music and musicians from the earliest available records up to and including modern times; stories of operas; current events, including knowledge of well-known present day orchestras, music festivals, composers, singers, players, conductors, and music critics.

Music 22—Harmony.

Four hours, second semester. 1:55, M, T, W, Th. Admission to this course requires a working knowledge of the rudiments of music. Intervals, scales, chord structure and simple harmonization based upon tonal tendencies and rhythmic effects. Form as a factor in the selection of harmonies and their inversions. Application of these principles in the harmonization of melodies, using the primary harmonies. Some work will be done in writing original melodies, introducing the technical problems of the grades and also some practical work at the piano.

Music 24—High School Methods and Materials.

Four hours, first semester. Two hours' credit. 1:00, M, T, Th, F. Required of Music Majors. Teaching of music in junior and senior high schools. This course is open to those who plan to teach music in all grades and junior and senior high, and who have completed Music 2, or those who plan to teach music in junior or senior high only. The various problems of the junior high will be discussed in detail. Study of methods of organizing and conducting a high school department of music, including choruses, glee clubs, orchestras, classification of voices, theory, music appreciation, art of chorus accompaniment, etc. Materials for such classes and organizations will be discussed.

FRENCH

Miss Ice

French 1—Beginners' Course.

Four hours, first semester. 8:15, T, W, Th, F. Elements of grammar; pronunciation; phonetics; regular and common and irregular verbs; simple vocabulary; reading of easy prose; oral and written composition. Fraser and Squair's New French Grammar.

French 2—Beginners' Course.

Four hours, second semester. 8:15, T, W, Th, F. Continuation and completion of elementary grammar; reading of selections of prose and poetry; oral and written composition; dictation; emphasis on careful pronunciation.

French 22—Introduction to French Literature.

Three hours, first semester. 11:00, T, Th, F. Study of representative authors of various periods; expressive reading and imparting of literary appreciation.

French 23—Introduction to French Literature.

Three hours, second semester. 11:00, T, Th, F. Continuation of French 22.

French 24—Advanced Composition.

One hour, first semester. 11:00, M. Must be taken with French 22 or preceded by it.

French 25—Advanced Composition.

One hour, second semester. 11:00 M. Continuation of French 24.

GENERAL SCIENCE

Mr. Haught Mr. Roberts Mr. Rogers Miss Ross

General Science 1—Subject Matter of Science.

Four hours, first semester. 2:50-4:40, M, W, and additional laboratory and observation hours to be arranged. A course offered by the Biology, Physics, and Chemistry Departments, designed to synthesize the subject matter necessary for the teaching of geneneral science. Designed for those who wish to secure a foundation of science, though unable to spend more time on specialized courses, and for science majors. The work is arranged as follows:

First nine weeks, Biology and Agriculture: Mr. Roberts.

Second nine weeks, Physics: Mr. Haught.

General Science 2—Subject Matter of Science.

Four hours, second semester. 2:50-4:40, M, W, and additional laboratory and observation hours to be arranged. A continuation of General Science 1. The work is arranged as follows:

First nine weeks, Chemistry: Mr. Rogers.

Second nine weeks, Nature Study: Miss Ross.

GEOGRAPHY

Miss Ross

Geography 1—Physical Geography of Lands.

Four hours, first semester. 11:00, M, T, Th, F. An introductory course of practical value to teachers. It deals primarily with the land forms, their changes and influence on man. Chief topics considered: soils, surface, and underground water vegetation, diastrophism, vulcanism, glaciation, erosion, physiographic divisions of United States.

Geography 2—Climate and Life.

Four hours, second semester. 11:00, M, T, Th, F. A practical course of general value. An introductory consideration of meterology, oceanography, and climatology. Chief topics: earth as a globe, geographic effect of rotation and revolution, ocean currents, influences of tides and waves, world distribution of population.

Geography 14—Regional Geography of United States.

Four hours, first semester. 9:10, M, T, Th, F. A study of the natural regions of United States; their influence on man, man's response. Prerequisite or parallel: Geography 1 or 2.

Geography 15—Regional Geography of North America.

Five hours, first nine weeks of second semester. Two hours credit. A continuation of Geography 14. Study of North America exclusive of United States.

Geography 20—Economic and Commercial Geography of United States.

Four hours, first semester. 10:05, M, T, W, F. A consideration of the chief commercial products of United States, the geographical factors influencing their production transportation, consumption and conservation. Some discussion of problems and projects suitable for grade and high school classes. Prerequisite or parallel: Geography 1 or 2.

Geography 24—Economic and Commercial Geography of Foreign Countries—(Omitted in 1926-27).

Four hours, first semester. A study of some of the important economic activities and problems of the people of foreign countries. Pre-requisite or parallel: Geography 1 or 2.

Geography 26—Conservation of Natural Resources.

Four hours, second semester. 9:15, M, T, Th, F. The natural resources of United States as they have influenced national development, exploitation of minerals, forests, soils, conservation movements, water ways, water power, reclamation of swamps and arid lands. Prerequisite or parallel: Geography 20.

Three hours, first semester. 2:50, M, T, Th. Designed for college seniors who are preparing to teach history in the high school. A consideration of aims in teaching history; the history recitation; teaching pupils to study; general and special methods of procedure; supplementary reading and illustrative material; note book and written work; teaching current events, etc. Prerequisite: twelve hours of college history including History 1 and 2.—Mr. Stewart.

HOME ECONOMICS

Foods and Cooking, Miss Gaskill

Clothing, Miss Compton

The schedule of courses is on pages 00-00. This includes both recitation and laboratory hours. Courses marked with stars are required of majors in Home Economics.

Home Economics 1—Elementary Foods and Cookery.

Seven hours, first semester. One discussion period and two three-hour laboratory periods. Four hours credit. A study of foods in relation to source, composition, characteristics, nutritive value, digestion, cost and place in the daily diet. Special attention given to the development of ease and accuracy in the cooking of type foods, and to gaining definite standards for preparing dishes of these foods.

Home Economics 3—Home Cookery and Table Service.

Seven hours, second semester. One discussion period and two three-hour laboratory periods. Four hours' credit. Required of Home Economics majors. A more advanced Cookery course, making use of principles and processes learned in preceding courses. Meals will be planned and executed with emphasis on marketing and serving. Prerequisite: Home Economics 1.

Home Economics 21—Nutrition.

Six hours, first semester. Three one-hour lecture periods and one two-hour laboratory periods per week. Four hours' credit. This course deals with food as building and regulating materials in relation to the chemistry of physiology and digestion; the quantitative basis in the selection of food for the normal adults and children. Practical work in planning meals to meet the needs of individual members of the class and a very brief survey of the place of nutrition as a part of the health program. Prerequisite: Home Economics 3 and Chemistry 1.

Home Economics 23—Housewifery and Home Management.

Five hours, second semester. One two-hour laboratory periods, two one-hour discussion periods. Three hours' credit. This course deals with the division of space in the house: plumbing, heating and lighting; equipment and labor-saving devices, household supplies, storage, cleaning and care of rooms. Part of the time will be devoted to the general management of the house; family income; household accounting; budgets; business principles applicable to the household and system in the house.

Home Economics 25—Home Nursing and Child Care.

Two hours, first semester. Two one-hour periods per week. Cause and prevention of sickness. The nurse, the care of the patient and the sickroom. Communicable diseases and emergencies. The care and feeding of infants and children in the home; school and home problems relating to the health of children.

Home Economics 26—Home Economics Methods.

Three hours, first semester. Required of Home Economics majors. A study of the development of education for women; the organization of material for home economic education. Emphasis is placed upon the course of study and lesson plans for the elementary grades and high school; equipment, text books, administrative problems, reference and illustrative material. Half of the time will be devoted to clothing and half to foods. Prerequisite: All required Home Economic courses and Education 20 and 22.

Home Economics 2—Elementary Clothing.

Seven hours, first semester, four hours' credit. One class hour and two three-hour laboratory periods. This course deals with the fundamental principles of construction and practice in fundamental processes. Emphasis is placed upon suitability of material and economical purchasing. Use of commercial patterns with some drafting combination of machine and hand sewing. Color and line problems as related to dress will be studied. Some time is devoted to the history and use of various textile fibers.

Home Economics 22—Advanced Clothing.

Seven hours, second semester, four hours' credit. One class hour and two three-hour laboratory periods. This course provides instruction in planning, buying, cutting, fitting and making of dresses. Emphasis is placed on good design, choice of materials, use and adaptation of commercial patterns. A detailed study of various textiles is given careful consideration, study of clothing budget will also be made. Prerequisite: Home Economics 2.

Home Economics 24—Costume Design.

Five hours, second semester. Three hours' credit. One class hour and two two-hour laboratory periods. Required of Home Economics majors. This course aims to give opportunity for individual expression of artistic taste in dress. Costumes are designed on paper with pencil and brush. The designs are then produced in cloth. Prerequisites: Home Economics 2, and Art 1.

Home Economics 28—Millinery.

Four hours, first semester, two hours' credit. Two two-hour laboratory periods. Required of Home Economics majors. This course aims to teach practical millinery. It includes remodeling and the making, covering, and trimming of crinoline and willow frames. Consideration is given to types of hats and their suitability to the wearer. Prerequisite: Home Economics 2.

Home Economics 30—Children's Clothing.

Four hours, second semester, two hours' credit. Two two-hour laboratory periods. Required of Home Economics majors. This course includes the planning, purchasing and making of children's clothing, considering hygiene, comfort, beauty, and practicability. In the laboratory special emphasis is laid upon machine work, use of machine attachments, and easy decorative schemes. The child's clothing budget is also a feature of this course. Prerequisite: Home Economics 2.

Home Economics 31—Home Planning and Furnishing.

Five hours, first semester, three hours' credit. One class hour and two two-hour laboratory periods. Required of Home Economics majors. This course aims to establish sound principles for home-making. A study of the evolution of the home; modern houses; location; construction, drainage, ventilation, lighting, heating and water supply from a scientific, sanitary, economic, and artistic standpoint. The study also includes simple interiors; period and modern furniture; choice and arrangement of furnishings for the home. Prerequisite: Art 1.

LATIN

Mr. Mercer

Latin 1—Introduction to Latin.

Four hours, first semester. 11:00, M, T, Th, F. This course is an introduction to the study of Latin. It includes drill on vocabulary, syntax, and easy translation. Much attention is given to a comparison with English grammar and to word formation and derivation. It is intended to prepare students for the reading of Latin of average difficulty and to furnish a basis for future study.

Latin 2—Introduction to Latin.

Four hours, second semester. 11:00, M, T, Th, F. A continuation of Latin 1.

Latin 2—Latin Translation.

Four hours, first semester. 1:55, M, T, W, Th. This is chiefly a course in translation and drill on syntax and other topics introduced in the first year. Stress is laid on ancient customs and ideas in connection with the texts read. Sight-translation is given an important place to help the student put in practice his knowledge of word formation and construction.

Latin 12—Latin Translation.

Four hours, second semester. 1:55, M, T, W, Th. A continuation of Latin 11.

MATHEMATICS

Mr. McCarty Mr. Mercer

Mathematics 1 will be waived upon satisfactory examination.

Mathematics 1A—Teachers' Arithmetic.

Three hours, first semester. 9:10, M, W, F. Required of all students taking the intermediate or junior high curriculum. The course includes a study of the principles, processes, and history of arithmetic, and much drill in the solution of problems. All of the important topics of Arithmetic are considered from the viewpiont of the teacher.—Mr. McCarty.

Mathematics 1B—Teachers' Arithmetic.

Three hours, second semester. 9:10, M, W, F. A repetition of Mathematics 1A.—Mr. McCarty.

Mathematics 2—Algebra.

Two hours, first semester. 9:10, T, Th. For those offering only one unit of algebra for entrance. A rigid review of elementary algebra, and in addition the general methods of factoring, radicals, quadratics, graphs, progression, and the binomial theorem.—Mr. McCarty.

Mathematics 4—Plane Geometry.

Five hours, first semester. 9:10, M, T, W, Th, F. Open to first year students not offering plane geometry for entrance. The usual theorems are supplemented with numerous exercises and original construction problems.—Mr. Mercer.

Mathematics 5—Solid Geometry.

Four hours, second semester. 10:05, M, T, W, F. Open to first and second year students not offering this subject for entrance. This course includes theorem of lines, planes, and solids. Emphasis is placed upon original exercises and construction, and the nature of mathematical proof.—Mr. McCarty.

Mathematics 20—Trigonometry.

Four hours, first semester. 10:05, M, T, W, F. The development and use of trigonometric functions, relations between functions, logarithms, and solution of triangles. Applications of functions and formulae are made by the use of many practical problems. Prerequisites: Mathematics 2 and 4.—Mr. Mercer.

Mathematics 22—College Geometry.

Four hours, second semester. 10:05, M, T, W, F. An extension of the principles and proofs of plane geometry, including Homothetic figures, the Nine-point Circle, harmonic ranges, inversions, and the geometry of the triangle. Recommended for Mathematics majors and minors. Prerequisites: Mathematics 4 and 20.—Mr. Mercer.

Mathematics 24—College Algebra.

Four hours, second semester. 8:15, T. W, Th, F. A study of the general quadratic and simultaneous quadratic equations, progressions, variation, logarithms, mathematical induction, functions, theory of equations, permutations, combinations and determinants. Prerequisite: Mathematics 2.—Mr. McCarty.

Mathematics 26—Analytic Geometry—(Omitted 1926-27).

Four hours, first semester. 8:15, T, W, Th, F. A brief practical treatment of the system of coordinates, geometric magnitudes, loci, and their equations. The straight line, circle, parabola, ellipse and hyperbola. Exercises illustrating the analytic method are stressed throughout the course. Prerequisites: Mathematics 20 and 24.

Mathematics 28—Calculus.

Four hours, first semester. 8:15 or 10, T, W, Th, F. The fundamental principles and idea of calculus and its application to the sciences and other mathematics. A brief treatment of limits, differentiation, summation, algebraic, trigonometric, and logarithmic functions, series and integration. Prerequisites: Mathematics 24 and 26.—Mr. McCarty.

Mathematics 30—Teaching of Secondary Mathematics—(Omitted 1926-27).

Three hours, first semester. 9:10, M, W, F. This course is designed to meet the needs of teachers of mathematics in the junior and senior high schools. An examination of mathematics as found in the present day courses of study. Aims of mathematical instruction; selection, and organization of subject matter and the approved methods of teaching. Prerequisite: twelve hours of college mathematics.

Mathematics 32—History of Mathematics.

Two hours, second semester. 9:10, T, Th. To give teachers and students of mathematics a knowledge and appreciation of the historical development of the high school subjects: arithmetic, algebra, geometry, and trigonometry. Some attention is also given to the development of method. Prerequisites: twelve hours of College Mathematics.—Mr. McCarty.

NATURE STUDY

Miss Ross Mr. Roberts

Nature Study 1—Autumn Nature Study.

Four hours, first semester. Two hours' credit. First section. 10:05, M, T, W, F; second section, 1:00-2:50, M, W. The Fall aspect of Nature as revealed in the trees and their fruits, plants and seed dispersal, birds and bird migration, weather and climate.

Nature Study 2—Spring Nature Study.

Four hours, second semester. Two hours' credit. First section, 10:05, M, T, W, F; second section, M, W, 1:00-2:50, M, W. The aim of this course is to use the seasonal material of Spring in the development of Nature Study ideals and information.

Nature Study 10—Bird Study.

Three hours, spring term and summer sessions, one and one-half hour credit. Hours to be arranged.

PHYSICS

Mr. Haught

The schedule of courses in Physics, including laboratory hours, is given on pages 52 and 53.

Physics 1—General Physics.

Five hours, first semester. Four hours' credit. 11:00, M, T, F, and a two-hour laboratory period Thursday beginning at 1:00. Those who cannot reserve the designated laboratory period should consult the instructor before completing arrangements for other courses. The aim of this course is not only to familiarize the student with many of the facts, phenomena and laws concerning mechanics, heat, light, sound and electricity, but to train in the methods of science and in scientific thinking. Stewart's College Physics is the text. Prerequisites: Mathematics 2, 3 and 20 and high school chemistry.

Physics 2—General Physics.

Five hours, second semester. Four hours' credit. 11:00, M, T, F and a two-hour laboratory period to be arranged. A continuation of Physics 1.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Mr. Colebank Miss Tiovonen

Before being assigned to physical education, a student is given a medical and physical examination. Those who are not able to take the courses are given special attention.

The student must provide himself with gym suit and shoes.

Members of the various athletic squads may, upon recommendation of Mr. Colebank or Miss Toivonen, be permitted to substitute this athletic training (up to a maximum of four semester hours) for any regular course in Physical Education except Physical Education 3 or 4. But this athletic training must be entered upon the student's assignment card, and the credit given must not bring the total number of hours above eighteen.

COURSES FOR WOMEN

Physical Education 1A—Practical Health.

Four hours, first semester. Two hours' credit. First section (Miss Toivonen) 9:15, M, T, Th, F; second section (Miss Toivonen) 10:05, M, T, W, F. Required of all women students. A posture training course with special emphasis placed upon the correction of physical defects and the establishment of good health habits. Required of all students.

Physical Education 1B—Practical Health.

Four hours, second semester. Two hours' credit. 9:15, M, T, Th, F. A repetition of Physical Education 1A.

Physical Education 3—Teachers' Primary Physical Education.

Four hours, second semester. Two hours' credit. 11:00, M, T, Th, F. Required of all Standard Normal Seniors specializing in primary work. Consists of methods of teaching story plays, rhythm work, and games.

Physical Education 4—Teachers' Upper Grade Physical Education.

Four hours, second semester. Two hours' credit. 8:15, T, W, Th, F. Required of Standard Normal Seniors specializing in upper grade work. Consists of methods of teaching physical education and coaching more highly organized games.

Physical Education 6—Games.

Four hours, first semester. Two hours' credit. 2:50, M, T, W, Th. Consists of teaching and training in basketball, volley ball, indoor baseball, and tennis.

Physical Education 8—Tennis.

Four hours, fall, spring, and summer. One hour credit. Hours arranged.

Physical Education 20—Aesthetic and Natural Dancing.

Four hours, first semester. Two hours' credit. 1:00, M, T, Th, F.

Physical Education 21—Stunts and Contests.

Four hours, second semester. Two hours' credit. 1:00, M, T, Th, F.

Physical Education 22—Folk Dancing.

Sociology 25S—Modern Social Movements and Progress.

Eight hours, summer, four hours' credit. A careful study of the workings of modern social institutions in relation to modern progress. Prerequisites: Sociology 6 and 20.—Mr. Lively.

EXTENSION DEPARTMENT

In addition to the two courses of study the Normal School supports an Extension Department. This has two principal purposes: to assist those who cannot enter school, especially teachers, to continue their studies out of school; and to help improve educational conditions throughout the northern part of West Virginia. A number of different kinds of extension activities are carried on, among which are the following:

1. Extension classes are organized among teachers and others who may be interested, and conducted by different members of the faculty. Permission is also granted groups of students at a distance from the Normal School to form classes with a local leader as instructor. Students doing this kind of work are regularly enrolled and given credit for the actual amount of work done. (For details see page 00).

2. Persons who are unable to enroll at the school may take correspondence work. This work is in charge of different members of the faculty and students and teachers may take it with profit. (See page 00).

3. Members of the faculty of the Normal School, as far as possible, will accept invitations to assist in educational meetings and district institutes, and they are also available for commencement addresses. School superintendents and Boards of Education are requested to write our Extension Department when they need the services of our faculty. It is expected that expenses and whenever possible, a small fee be paid for this service.

4. Lecture Courses and entertainments are provided by the institution for the towns and school districts within its territory. These consist of lectures by members of the faculty, story- telling hours, readings, and musical programs. Plans have also been made to organize and direct play festivals.

5. The school will furnish judges for agricultural fairs and other similar exhibitions.

6. Bulletins of educational interest are occasionally published.

7. Information will be given on matters pertaining to the erection of school buildings, the purchasing of libraries, and the organization of schools. The Normal school, through its faculty, will be glad to serve the public schools in an advisory capacity.

8. A Teachers' Employment Bureau is maintained for the purpose of securing positions for the graduates of the Normal School and for other teachers who may desire to enroll with the bureau. The institution finds that it can render a distinct service to teachers, superintendents and boards of education, through this bureau. All persons interested are requested to make use of it.

9. Assistance is given in selecting suitable plays for high schools.

The courses listed below and probably a few others may be given by correspondence during 1926-27. Tuition is at the rate of $5.00 per semester hour.

All class periods will be two hours in length and will carry two semester hours' credit.

Enrollment day, September 19, 10:00 A. M.

The Extension Department publishes a brief circular descriptive of its work. Those interested should write for the circular. All communications should be addressed to M. E. McCarty, Head of the Extension Department.

PRIVATE MUSIC INSTRUCTION

Miss Beltzhoover, Piano and Organ

Miss Mary Price, Voice and Violin,

PIANO AND ORGAN

The school is equipped with a number of upright pianos, which are available for practice, and a Knabe grand piano which is used for concert work. Private recitals are frequently given by the students, to which all members of the school will be admitted. Public recitals which are designed to give the students experience in public performance occur several times a year.

Piano—The course of study in this department includes:

I. Finger exercises; major and minor scales; scales in double thirds; arpeggios in all forms.

II. Studies by Berens, Bertini, Heller, Hasert.

III. Sonatinas by Kublau and Clementine; sonatas by Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven.

IV. Compositions by representative composers of all periods.

Pipe Organ—The organ course is intended to provide a thorough and complete preparation for the work of a church organist and accompanist.

A certain facility at the piano and in sight-reading is necessary before this work is taken up.

Special studies, pedal studies and hymn playing comprise the preparatory work, followed by the works of Rink, Buck, Dunham, Chadwick, Bach, Mendelssohn, Guilmant, Rheingeger, and comprise the groundwork of study through the course.

Tuition—The tuition for a semester payable in advance is:

	Lessons per week
	One	Two
Piano	$25.00	$50.00
Organ	36.00	72.00
Harmony (class of three)	15.00	30.00
Theory (class of three)	15.00	30.00
History of Music (class of three)	15.00	30.00

VOICE

In addition to the vocal music in the regular Public School Music Courses, the normal offers individual instruction in voice. This is not a part of the regular course, but suitable credit, as an elective, will be given in the course of study. The course consists of the foundation of singing, position, breathing, good tone quality, phrasing, accent, rhythm, enunciation and articulation. Students will have opportunity to appear in public during the year.

The tuition for a semester payable in advance, according to when the student enters, is:

	Lessons per week
	One	Two
Tuition	$25.00	$50.00

VIOLIN

Students desiring to do so may also take lessons on the violin. The director of the music department is a graduate of violin from West Virginia University School of Music, and has had considerable experience in teaching this instrument. All fees are payable in advance per semester, according to when the student enters:

	Lessons per week
	One	Two
Tuition	$25.00	$50.00
